

Colonel R M L Colville TD DL

Colonel Colville has served as a Deputy Lieutenant since 1997. Colonel Colville lives in Barkby where he runs the family business. He is married to Karen and together they have three children.

Having attended the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst, he was commissioned into the Duke of Wellington's Regiment in Londonderry. Further service with the Territorial Army saw service in Bosnia and command of the local TA Infantry Unit, 7 Royal Anglian, before being appointed Deputy Commander of 49 Brigade in Nottingham – the senior TA officer in the East Midlands.

Colonel Murray was first appointed as Vice Lord-Lieutenant by Jennifer, Lady Gretton in 2013, and reappointed in 2018 by Mike Kapur.

He is currently Chair of Leicestershire's World War 1 Reference Group and Chair of Trustees of Leicester, Leicestershire War Memorial Homes. Colonel Murray is a Trustee of the Queen's Royal Lancers and Nottinghamshire Yeomanry Military Museum, and also a Board Member of of Leicestershire & Rutland ABF The Soldiers' Charity and the Council of Reserve Forces and Cadets.